Beautiful - The Carole King Musical is so much more than a celebration of King herself or Tapestry the album.

It is a series of snapshots from our time line that show the changes in attitude, life, politics and fashion – all bound and propelled by one common factor: Music!

The term 'musical' is applied to this production because there is song and dance but this really is one hell of a book, with characters whose story arcs are as complex as they are significant. They all revolve around one woman, her dreams and music – Carole King.

This production has been a challenge but this has made its rewards so much greater.

For Davine Productions, this marks our 10th outing trading the boards, with many rewards and awards, and a return to Star Theatres where it all began in 2013.

It has been a blessing to work with past students, present students and students from the new Adelaide University Music Theatre Course. I keep hoping and praying that this could be the moment that Adelaide is inspired enough to make a permanent music theatre company happen so we can keep them here!
